

STONEHOUSE CONTRACTING

August 14, 2015

To Whom It May Concern;

Stonehouse Contracting is pleased to recommend WestPoint Roofing for any roofing project. Having just completed a large commercial project with them, we can testify to their work ethic and the quality of their work.

We have found WestPoint Roofing to be safety conscious, which is very important to us on a public building. The professionalism shown by the installers and foreman was exceptional, providing progress reports regularly throughout the project. In addition, Peter Coscolin, was very knowledgeable, providing a hands-on and collaborative approach to each phase of the project.

Our experience with WestPoint Roofing has been excellent, from the initial sales contact to the planning and completion of this multiphase project. We would not hesitate to hire them for our next commercial project.

Sincerely,

Richard O'Neill
